Art Unit: 1775

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 50,52-59,61-65 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lee et al (5,700,518) or Pulia et al (5,674,620) or Feistritz et al (5,415,674) or Saijo et al (5,204,167).

Lee et al or Pulia et al or Feistritz et al or Saijo et al disclose a diamond coated tungsten carbide tool, wherein the substrate has been etched to take out the binder from the surface to improve bonding of the coating. They do not explicitly disclose the claimed thickness of the surface layer. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide the surface layer with the claimed thickness, as one of ordinary skill in the art would know to balance the thickness with the improved adhesion. Even though the coating provided on the claimed substrate is diamond in the references, one of ordinary skill in the art would know that this improvement of bonding could be applied to known coatings, like the claimed ordering.

3. Claims 50,52-59,61-65 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Svensson (5,380,408).

Svensson discloses coating a tungsten carbide tool, wherein the substrate has been etched to take out the binder from the surface to improve bonding of the coating. He does not explicitly disclose the claimed thickness of the surface layer. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide the surface layer with the claimed thickness, as one of ordinary skill in the art would know to balance the thickness with the improved adhesion. Svensson does not explicitly disclose the claimed coating, but the claimed ordering of the coating is well known in the art, and one of ordinary skill would know to provide the claimed coating on the substrate of Svensson.

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 50,52-59,62-65 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
